

BIGGIN HILL

No. of Scouts: 5

Equipment: 2 chairs

Scouts one and two are flying home.

Scout One: That was a great day out in France, exploring the battlefields. It's a great flight too; we've already crossed the Channel.

Scout Two: We've certainly brought back rather a lot of stuff. I'm beginning to feel that we're overloaded. Especially with all those World War Two hand grenades. What are you going to do with them?

Scout One: They would be good for a wide game. I don't think they're live! Let's get this thing landed and we can go and join the other leaders at the scout camp.

Scout Two: We're going to be flying over it in a minute aren't we?

Scout One: If we're lucky; we're losing height. Chuck something out.

Scout Two: All I have is my apple core and banana skin.

Scout One: CHUCK THEM OUT!

Scout Two: We're still losing height! Chuck out your grenades.

Scout One: Okay; it looks like I'll have to.

Scout Two: That's better; that's stabilised things. Now let's get this landed at Biggin Hill. It's just as well you ditched the grenades. I don't think you would have got them through security; you know what they're like down here.

Scout One: We're cleared to land. (Scouts one and two climb out and leave the stage before returning.)

Scout One: It's good to be here. I love this scout camp. But where is everybody?

Scout Two (as scout three walks on): Here comes someone. Oh my goodness, what's she done to herself? Are you okay?

Scout Three: Sort of. Not that long ago I was sitting on the grass when I was hit by a flying object. I don't know what it was. The only thing nearby was an apple core. I was concussed so Skip took me up to the hospital where they put this bandage on me to protect the bruising.

Scout One (as scout four walks on): And what have you done to yourself?

Scout Four: We're always being told to clear up after ourselves but someone wasn't listening; they left a banana skin in the car park. I slipped on it and I've broken my leg.

Scout Two: That's dreadful. But what's happened to [Name]?

Scout Five (comes on with some mud on her face): It was such fun! I had just gone in the outside toilets for a number two. I did a great big fart and then there was a huge explosion and now I've blown the place up!
